Support Group for Students with Learning Disabilities . . .

In the Fall of 1991 the Services for Disabled Students established an academic support group for students with learning disabilities. Two facilitators - Maxime Marsman and Veran Pardeahstan - both of whom have learning disabilities, were selected to guide the group.

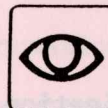

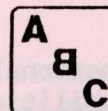

The emphasis of the group is topic-oriented using a format that facilitates the development of study strategies and interpersonal skills. Its intention is to foster empowerment, independence and self-confidence.

The group meets once a week, every friday from 1:00 pm to 3:00 pm in Annex Z 106 (Campus Ministry). Students with learning disabilities who are interested in joining this group can contact or drop by the Services for Disabled Students on either campus.

"The goals of our group are to facilitate a better understanding of learning disability issues which are the following: friendship, roles of student teacher, social skills, employment, funding, coping strategies, safe place and guidance." - Members of the Group"
